

Exploring Creativity Through Book Arts, Collage & Poetry with Mimi Shapiro

This workshop is for anyone who would like to awaken their creative side, book arts encourages participants to explore what makes a book, a book. Together we will explore writing, bookmaking as an artistic activity, the book will be an art object in its own right.

Learn some new skills and have fun.

Creativity can be in everyone's life, tapping into a truer source of the self.

Art making is a process of learning something new, is a fun and a rewarding way to express yourself and to learn a range of new art skills, explore new concepts and play with words...poetry is all about ideas and a rewarding to explore personal creativity.

Mimi Shapiro, is a visual poet, mixing trinkets and treasures, words and images, into an evocative body of work. Each piece conveys a sense of time and place as seen through the mind's eye of memory, combining reality and fantasy to create a new vision.

Mimi's works are included in many collections in the United States and internationally.
